Environmental, Social, Governance (“ESG”) as Part of Alger’s Investment Process

Framework for Incorporating ESG Considerations in Security Analysis

Alger adopted its firm-wide ESG framework to incorporate ESG considerations into its security analysis processes in 2019. Alger’s belief is that ESG analysis of certain owned issuers can lead to a more in-depth and comprehensive understanding of such companies, in addition to fostering communication with the issuer regarding ESG considerations. We believe that innovative companies, including those embracing sustainable ESG practices may be able to create value for both shareholders and broader society.

Alger uses third-party research, including Sustainalytics, MSCI ESG Research, and other means, to provide information and guidance on ESG considerations at an industry and security-specific level. Further, Alger partners with other providers to provide quantitative ESG data based on publicly-available ESG information.

To assist with our efforts to incorporate ESG considerations in the investment process, our investment professionals also have access to:

- The Global Access portal provided by third-party firm, Sustainalytics (a Morningstar company). Its focus is on the makeup and key drivers of covered companies’ ESG Risk Score. We supplement that analysis with other means such as Bloomberg, MSCI ESG Research, ISS, and S&P (all available through the Bloomberg platform) to provide further information and guidance on ESG considerations at an industry- and security-specific level.
- Company-specific ESG reports, which provide detailed information about the company (e.g., overall ESG rating, commentary, key risks, strengths, controversies). Such reports are updated annually and more frequently, if necessary (e.g., due to an event which affects the issuers’ ESG profile).
- A quarterly report that provides ESG rankings (as determined by the third-party provider) for each of the securities Weatherbie owns on behalf of its clients.
- ESG-specific news alerts in FactSet for industries they cover.

Further, our analysts, are made aware of and investigate companies involved in ESG-related incidents. These investigations are through a framework that considers the severity of incidents, the corporation’s accountability and whether they form part of a pattern of corporate misconduct. Examples of controversies impacting companies can include anything from bribery and corruption to workplace discrimination and environmental incidents, and corporate scandals.

With respect to no less than 75% of the assets under management, Alger will review the ESG scores of those companies that have been assigned to them. If the company’s Sustainalytics ESG rating is 25.0 or below and our research uncovers no other ESG issues, no further ESG analysis is required. If the company is ranked 25.1 or above by Sustainalytics, the Analyst will:

1. Identify drivers of ESG score; review in detail the reporting provided to identify the ESG issues raised.
2. Interview management with key questions about ESG issues and progress, and evaluate the prospect of positive change. Sample questions could be:
 - Is the company aware of the issues which are negatively impacting its ESG rating?
 - Are the issues temporary or permanent?
 - What is the company doing to address the issues? How many resources are committed to addressing the issues and over what timeframe?

- At what level of the organization are ESG projects managed?
- Is the management team keeping abreast of the ESG developments of their peers?
- Additional sample questions by ESG theme are provided in Appendix A.

3. Based on the above research and inquiry, rate the company on three scales of 1 – 5 on the probability and magnitude of the potential for positive ESG change, and the awareness of issues.

Probability of Change
1	Very low
2	Modest
3	Considerable
4	High
5	Near Certainty

Magnitude of change
1	Worsening
2	No change
3	Modest
4	Considerable
5	Significant

Awareness of Issues
1	Is unaware
2	Is low
3	Is Moderate
4	Is Proactively Addressing
5	Is the Leader of ESG Principles

4. Publish a report that summarizes the company's ESG issues, the results of the meeting/interview with the company, an ESG rating of the company and any other views the analyst may have. To the extent that the ESG review changes an analyst's overall view of the company or any aspect of the analyst's view of the company (e.g., buy or sell, price target, etc.), this must be clearly expressed in the report.

5. Meet with PMs as necessary to discuss the ESG report and the impact it may have on their overall view of the company.

If there is an event which causes a more immediate review of a company, the analyst shall follow the steps above as soon as is practicable.

ESG-Focused Portfolios

Alger has incorporated ESG and socially responsible factors into certain of its strategies since 1987. These portfolios follow client-directed positions on a variety of ESG issues and are known as our Socially Responsible Investing (“SRI”) strategies.

- The Alger Responsible Investing Fund – In the Fund, the portfolio manager draws upon Alger's 60-year-old investment philosophy based upon fundamental, in-depth, proprietary research. We augment this process by identifying dynamic, growth-oriented companies that conduct their business in a responsible manner reflecting positive ESG characteristics. The strategy seeks to generate competitive risk-adjusted returns by incorporating ESG factors to analyze securities. The portfolio manager applies ESG factors with a qualitative and quantitative approach to portfolio construction guidelines. The portfolio is a diversified, ESG-focused portfolio of our highest conviction ideas, and typically holds 75 or fewer securities.
- The Alger SRI Capital Appreciation strategy – This strategy utilizes negative / exclusionary screening. The importance of ESG criteria is directly related to the restrictions or requests made within the client's investment management agreement and primarily centered around “Social” exclusions. Alger uses MSCI ESG Research, whose products and services are designed to provide in-depth research, ratings and analysis of environmental, social and governance-related business practices, for pre-screening based on the following categories: Alcohol, Abortion/Contraceptives, Defense & Weapons, Gambling, Global Sanctions, Global Sanction (Sudan-Specific), Nuclear Power, Pork, Tobacco, Global Weapons Production, Global Weapons (Cluster Bomb Specific), Adult Entertainment, Labor Relations, and OFAC, among others. Alger has extensive history in this space, managing Socially Responsible portfolios since 1987.
- The Alger Weatherbie Enduring Growth strategy – This strategy primarily invests in equity securities of small to mid-cap growth companies with an environmental, social and governance rating of medium or better, as determined by Sustainalytics at the time of purchase. The strategy considers the ESG impact of positions in the portfolio on clients, communities and employees while striving to deliver consistent results for shareholders.

Alger has a fiduciary duty to its clients to follow their investment policy statements for separate accounts and other similar vehicles, and thus may not apply ESG considerations to all client assets.

Investment Team & Senior Executives Participation

ESG Initiatives Beyond Security Analysis

Alger is committed to sustainability. We are long-term investors, seeking to make an impact within our investment companies and our community. Since becoming a signatory to the PRI in 2015, Alger has taken steps to integrate the Principles into internal and external processes and to further sensitize our professional staff and clients on ESG issues. Highlights are as follows:

Leadership

Alger CEO Dan Chung, CFA is a board member of The Nature Conservancy and has a long history of supporting charitable and environmental causes around the world. In addition, Alger's executive management team encourages philanthropy and volunteerism across all of Alger's employee base.

Carbon Footprint

In December 2024, Alger affirmed its long-term commitment to supporting environmental conservation and climate action. This is the fifth consecutive year that the firm has achieved carbon neutral status by reducing its footprint and carbon emissions and securing carbon offset credits. This is one component of Alger's multi-faceted commitment to supporting environmental conservation and climate action in the long-term.

Alger first conducted a comprehensive assessment of its carbon footprint in 2019 and as a result implemented initiatives to reduce the organization's footprint, including eliminating single-use plastics and reducing food waste, in addition to securing sufficient carbon offset credits through The Nature Conservancy from 2020 - 2024.

During 2024, we again worked with The Nature Conservancy and the Working Woodlands program to support a New York-based forests management project to secure additional carbon offset credits.

Additionally, Alger undertook additional steps to reduce the firm's impact of the environment by consolidating its offices into one headquarters and reducing overall square footage, updating and improving the firm's infrastructure, adding indoor and outdoor green space at the new office, and cutting travel significantly by conducting virtual meetings.

Alger's Charitable Efforts

Founded in 2007, the Alger Candlelight Giving Committee is an employee-supported program with the mission of giving back to the community and those less fortunate. Our employees proudly support numerous charities and non-profit organizations through donations and active volunteering. The committee was founded with the goal of creating worthwhile and meaningful volunteer experiences for employees. We also encourage employees to donate to personal causes of their choosing through Alger's Matching Program.

Beginning in 2020, Alger has made an annual contribution to charities focused on addressing inequality and social justice. Since we began, Alger and its employees have contributed more than $1,500,000 to such organizations. The donations are made in memory of the 35 colleagues the firm lost on September 11th. Alger remains committed to bettering its community as a way of helping our neighbors by targeting our campaign to local chapters of national organizations on the forefront of social justice.

As an example, we donated over $400,000 for our 2020 Brooklyn Hospital Center Nurses Campaign, which recognized the contributions of frontline workers, and in particular, nurses. Alger partnered with The Brooklyn Hospital, which serves a high-need and low-income community and provides debt assistance for student loans as well as stress management and wellness meditation programs for 400+ nurses and care staff. We are proud of the work that they do for the community and continue to support the Brooklyn Hospital Foundation in many ways.

In 2023, we began working with two organizations committed to improving the environment: the Billion Oyster Project (“BOP”) and Rescuing Leftover Cuisine (“RLC”). BOP is a New York City-based nonprofit organization with a mission to restore one billion oysters to New York Harbor by 2035. Alger’s support of BOP extends through in-person volunteering activities, as well as donations in memory of Alger colleagues.

RLC is a national 501(c)3 nonprofit food rescue organization, operating across the U.S. and headquartered in New York City, which redistributes excess food to people experiencing food insecurity. RLC targets both the prevention of wasted food and putting an end to hunger. To date, the organization has rescued over seven million pounds of excess food.

During 2024, to commemorate Alger’s 60th anniversary, we launched the “60 for 60” Initiative, which was a summer-long program encouraging our employees to highlight their personal philanthropy and volunteer activities through friendly competition. Using a points-based system with the goal of reaching 60 points, our employees were given the opportunity to volunteer with their co-workers and also to support their own charitable endeavors. During our 60th year, we celebrated our firm’s long-history of excellence through our growth investing experience, but also through our legacy of giving.

Further, Alger served as a sponsor of City Harvest’s “Share Lunch Fight Hunger” campaign. Each year, thousands of corporations and individuals in New York City join Share Lunch Fight Hunger with the goal of raising awareness and crucial funds to help City Harvest rescue and deliver nutritious food for families during the summer months, when access to free school meals may become limited. With the power of our volunteers, thousands of pounds of produce were repacked from large, bulk containers into smaller, family-sized units that community food programs can easily distribute. We are proud of the work that City Harvest does in its mission to end hunger in communities throughout New York City. Visit Alger’s charitable website to read more about our efforts. PRI Signatory

Alger’s commitment to sustainability extends across the entire organization. Since 2015, Alger has been a signatory to the Principles for Responsible Investment (“PRI”). This recognizes Alger’s commitment to the Six Principles for Responsible Investment and demonstrates that we integrate these values into our investment and decision-making processes.

Proxy Voting

Certain clients authorize Alger to vote the proxies of securities held in the clients’ accounts and permit us to vote proxies on their behalf. For such clients, we receive and consider the recommendations of Institutional Shareholder Services (“ISS”), a leading proxy voting provider. Since June 2014, ISS has issued voting recommendations and casts votes on the proxies based on the pre-determined ESG voting guidelines which have been approved by Alger.

Risk Disclosures: Investing in the stock market involves risks, including the potential loss of principal. Growth stocks may be more volatile than other stocks as their prices tend to be higher in relation to their companies' earnings and may be more sensitive to market, political, and economic developments. Local, regional or global events such as environmental or natural disasters, war, terrorism, pandemics, outbreaks of infectious diseases and similar public health threats, recessions, or other events could have a significant impact on investments. The environmental, social and governance (“ESG”) investment criteria may limit the number of investment opportunities available, and as a result, returns may be lower than vehicles not subject to such considerations. Additionally, the ESG investment criteria may provide opportunities for long-term rather than short-term returns and may result in the selection or exclusion of securities for reasons other than financial performance. The Enduring Growth strategy may forego opportunities to buy or sell certain securities when it might be otherwise advantageous or disadvantageous to do so and investment returns may underperform strategies that do not utilize an ESG investment strategy. In evaluating a particular issuer's ESG rating, Weatherbie Capital relies exclusively on an ESG rating agency and, therefore, is dependent upon information and data from the ESG rating agency that may be incomplete or inaccurate, or that may present conflicting information and data with respect to an issuer than other third party ESG data providers utilized throughout the industry. Investing in new issues involves special risks including lack of trading history, limited information and availability, and volatility. Cash positions may underperform relative to equity and fixed-income securities. A significant portion of assets may be invested in securities of companies in related sectors, and may be similarly affected by economic, political, or market events and conditions and may be more vulnerable to unfavorable sector developments. Investing in companies of medium capitalizations involves the risk that such issuers may have limited product lines or financial resources, lack management depth, or have limited liquidity. Assets in the Enduring Growth strategy may be focused in a small number of holdings, making them susceptible to risks associated with a single economic, political or regulatory event than a more diversified portfolio. Active trading may increase transaction costs, brokerage commissions, and taxes, which can lower the return on investment. Prior to December 29, 2016, the Alger Responsible Investing Fund followed a different strategy and was managed by different portfolio managers.

Past performance is not indicative of future performance. Investors whose reference currency differs from that in which the underlying assets are invested may be subject to exchange rate movements that alter the value of their investments.
