Environmental, Social, Governance (“ESG”) as Part of Redwood’s Investment Process

Framework for Incorporating ESG Considerations in Security Analysis

Redwood Investments (“Redwood”) believes that Environmental, Social and Governance (ESG) factors can impact a company’s financial performance, competitive positioning, brand equity, among other determinants of long-term shareholder value. The Redwood investment team integrates ESG analysis into both the quantitative and qualitative components of their investment process.

Redwood views investing as a puzzle and believes that each relevant data point uncovered provides more information to complete the mosaic. Traditional fundamental analysis that considers such characteristics as earnings growth, balance sheet leverage, or P/E – starts to fill in pieces of the puzzle. Considering ESG factors provides incremental and uncorrelated insights to further complete the investment puzzle.

The foundation of the Redwood investment process is bottom-up, fundamental research that seeks, among other things, understanding the most relevant and critical ESG variables to help identify opportunities and avoid risk. The team seeks to understand what is material and what can positively or negatively influence investment performance. Redwood analyzes environmental, social, and governance qualities of a company at the fundamental level – material factors that we believe can impact an investment thesis and improve risk adjusted returns for client portfolios. Redwood strives to invest in companies that the team feels “run their businesses the right way” by investing with management teams that emphasize the long-term and building shareholder value. This approach allows the team to consider factors that do not neatly fit in any bucket, emphasizing long-term decisions over shorter-term ones.

When ESG factors that have been determined to have the potential to create value are combined with traditional financial factors, a more robust analysis of a company’s business prospects can be ascertained. Redwood has discovered that ESG factors provide additional insight and can improve a company’s near and intermediate term financial results and contribute to a portfolio’s risk-adjusted returns. This is based on our research that has shown ESG factors are highly uncorrelated with traditional financial factors. ESG factors can also improve a company’s longer-term prospects because key stakeholders recognize and are likely to reward management teams for acting responsibly.

Redwood does not invest in companies with the objective of becoming an activist Investor, nor does it invest based on our moral or ethical opinions. The team seeks to engage company managements in detailed discussions to better understand how factors around E, S, and G and other related characteristics are considered and valued within a company’s operating and decision-making frameworks. During these discussions, members of the investment team strive to be proactive in around E, S, and G perspectives with respect to long-term shareholder value to management teams regarding their strategic initiatives and governance policies.

Below are some examples of the specific environmental, social, and governance issues that Redwood believes may materially impact long-term performance, including:

- Governance
 - Board Composition
 - Executive Compensation
 - Disclosure
 - Accounting Policies

- Social:
 - Maximization of talent management
 - Equitable employment practices that produce greater engagement and lower turnover
 - Diversity to drive better decision-making
 - Access to professional growth
 - Workforce Rights/ Modern Slavery Risks
- Environmental
 - Investments in sustainability and reporting
 - Assessment of climate risks and business transformation
 - Transition to clean energy

Redwood complements this engagement with research provided by third-party resources including sell side analysis, and company-developed and industry sustainability reports.

Investment Team & Senior Executives Participation

The below listed professionals are members of Alger's ESG Steering Committee, which meets quarterly to discuss topics such as recent and upcoming ESG stock write-ups, notable meetings with company management specific to ESG, updates on ESG service providers, and details on PRI, among others. Detailed biographies are included beginning on page 8.

Michael Mufson, CFA is Co-Founder, Chief Investment Officer and Portfolio Manager at Redwood Investments, LLC, and oversees the implementation of the ESG framework at Redwood Investments.

Hal Liebes is Executive Vice President and Chief Operating Officer and oversees the ESG Steering Committee, and serves as liaison between Alger, Weatherbie, and Redwood in their coordination of ESG efforts. He works closely with the CIO and certain portfolio managers on ESG-related topics.

Greg Adams, CFA is Senior Vice President, Director of Quantitative & Risk Management, and Portfolio Manager for the Alger Responsible Investing Fund. In addition, he supports the implementation of Alger's "Framework for Incorporating ESG Considerations in Security Analysis."

Dan Sheridan, CFA is Senior Vice President and Senior Analyst, and oversees the process of incorporating Alger's "Framework for Incorporating ESG Considerations in Security Analysis" in addition to coordinating our engagement efforts.

Anna Gurvich is Vice President and Analyst supporting the implementation of Alger's firm-wide framework to incorporate ESG analysis into its investment process. This entails conducting time-series based quantitative analysis and investigating the accuracy of our portfolio and the rating agencies in regard to ESG scores. Additionally, Anna performs thematic analysis on key ESG topics, including Wind, Solar, Labor Relations, among others.

Shannon O'Connor is Senior Vice President and RFP Manager, and is responsible for the oversight of the "Approach to Alger ESG Investing and Oversight." Shannon ensures the ESG framework is up-to-date, available publicly on our website, and coordinates Compliance and senior executive review of the framework on a routine basis. She also manages the firm's relationship with the PRI and is responsible for annual reporting requirements.

Christoph Hofmann, CFA is Executive Vice President and Chief Distribution Officer. He provides insight into the various distribution channels we support, with a specific focus on the ESG needs of our international/global client base.

ESG Initiatives Beyond Security Analysis

Redwood, Weatherbie, and Alger are committed to sustainability. We are long-term investors, seeking to make an impact within our investment companies and our community. Since becoming a signatory to the PRI (Redwood in 2013, Alger in 2015, and Weatherbie in 2021), we have taken steps to integrate the Principles into internal and external processes and to further sensitize our professional staff and clients on ESG issues. Highlights are as follows:

Leadership

Alger CEO Dan Chung, CFA is a board member of The Nature Conservancy and has a long history of supporting charitable and environmental causes around the world. In addition, our executive management teams encourage philanthropy and volunteerism across the entire employee base.

Carbon Footprint

In December 2024, Alger affirmed its long-term commitment to supporting environmental conservation and climate action. This is the fifth consecutive year that the firm has achieved carbon neutral status by reducing its footprint and carbon emissions and securing carbon offset credits. This is one component of Alger's multi-faceted commitment to supporting environmental conservation and climate action in the long-term.

Alger first conducted a comprehensive assessment of its carbon footprint in 2019 and as a result implemented initiatives to reduce the organization's footprint, including eliminating single-use plastics and reducing food waste, in addition to securing sufficient carbon offset credits through The Nature Conservancy from 2020 - 2024.

During 2024, Alger again worked with The Nature Conservancy and the Working Woodlands program to support a New York-based forests management project to secure additional carbon offset credits.

Additionally, Alger undertook additional steps to reduce the firm's impact of the environment by consolidating its offices into one headquarters and reducing overall square footage, updating and improving the firm's infrastructure, adding indoor and outdoor green space at the new office, and cutting travel significantly by conducting virtual meetings.

Charitable Efforts

Founded in 2007, the Alger Candlelight Giving Committee is an employee-supported program with the mission of giving back to the community and those less fortunate. Our employees proudly support numerous charities and non-profit organizations through donations and active volunteering. The committee was founded with the goal of creating worthwhile and meaningful volunteer experiences for employees. We also encourage employees to donate to personal causes of their choosing through Alger's Matching Program.

Beginning in 2020, Alger has made an annual contribution to charities focused on addressing inequality and social justice. Since we began, Alger and its employees have contributed more than $1,000,000 to such organizations. The donations are made in memory of the 35 colleagues the firm lost on September 11th. Alger remains committed to bettering its community as a way of helping our neighbors by targeting our campaign to local chapters of national organizations on the forefront of social justice.

As an example, we donated over $400,000 for our 2020 Brooklyn Hospital Center Nurses Campaign, which recognized the contributions of frontline workers, and in particular, nurses. Alger partnered with The Brooklyn Hospital, which serves a high-need and low-income community and provides debt assistance for student loans as well as stress management and wellness meditation programs for 400+ nurses and care staff. We are proud of the work that they do for the community and continue to support the Brooklyn Hospital Foundation in various ways.

In 2023, we began working with two organizations committed to improving the environment: the Billion Oyster Project ("BOP") and Rescuing Leftover Cuisine ("RLC"). BOP is a New York City-based nonprofit organization with a mission to restore one billion oysters to New York Harbor by 2035. Alger's support of BOP extends through in-person volunteering activities, as well as donations in memory of Alger colleagues.

RLC is a national 501(c)3 nonprofit food rescue organization, operating across the U.S. and headquartered in New York City, which redistributes excess food to people experiencing food insecurity. RLC targets both the prevention of wasted food and putting an end to hunger. To date, the organization has rescued over seven million pounds of excess food.

During 2024, to commemorate Alger's 60th anniversary, we launched the "60 for 60" Initiative, which is a summer-long program encouraging our employees to showcase their personal philanthropy and volunteer activities through friendly competition. Using a points-based system with the goal of reaching 60 points, our employees were given the opportunity to volunteer with their co-workers and also to support their own charitable endeavors. During our 60th year, we celebrated our firm's long-history of excellence through our growth investing experience, but also through our legacy of giving.

Further, Alger served as a sponsor of City Harvest's "Share Lunch Fight Hunger" campaign. Each year, thousands of corporations and individuals in New York City join Share Lunch Fight Hunger with the goal of raising awareness and crucial funds to help City Harvest rescue and deliver nutritious food for families during the summer months, when access to free school meals may become limited. With the power of our volunteers, thousands of pounds of produce were repacked from large, bulk containers into smaller, family-sized units that community food programs can easily distribute. We are proud of the work that City Harvest does in its mission to end hunger in communities throughout New York City. Visit Alger's charitable website to read more about our efforts. PRI Signatory

Since 2013, Redwood has been a signatory to the Principles for Responsible Investment (“PRI”). This recognizes our commitment to the Six Principles for Responsible Investment and demonstrates that the firm integrates these values into its investment and decision-making processes.

ESG & Proxy Voting

Certain clients authorize Alger to vote the proxies of securities held in the clients' accounts and permit us to vote proxies on their behalf. For such clients, we receive and consider the recommendations of Institutional Shareholder Services (“ISS”), a leading proxy voting provider. Since June 2014, ISS has issued voting recommendations and casts votes on the proxies based on the pre-determined ESG voting guidelines which have been approved by Alger.

Redwood Investments believes that proxy voting is a valuable tool for investors to communicate with companies and express opinions related to corporate policy. Redwood seeks to remain current by updating procedures as appropriate to consider all aspects of what are considered sound responsible investment practices that either seek to create and preserve shareholder value.

General Awareness

On our firm website, we offer an “Insights” page, which highlights our latest ideas, perspectives, and knowledge, and showcases timely, actionable views on the markets by experienced investment professionals. Past themes include sustainable production as it relates to global warming, behavioral changes related to the COVID-19 pandemic, a deep dive into strides in A.I., asset allocation discussions amidst market volatility, an interactive module on connected intelligence, and greenhouse emissions, among others.

Risk Disclosures - Investing in the stock market involves risks, including the potential loss of principal. Growth stocks may be more volatile than other stocks as their prices tend to be higher in relation to their companies' earnings and may be more sensitive to market, political, and economic developments. Local, regional or global events such as environmental or natural disasters, war, terrorism, pandemics, outbreaks of infectious diseases and similar public health threats, recessions, or other events could have a significant impact on investments. The environmental, social and governance ("ESG") investment criteria may limit the number of investment opportunities available, and as a result, returns may be lower than vehicles not subject to such considerations. Additionally, the ESG investment criteria may provide opportunities for long-term rather than short-term returns and may result in the selection or exclusion of securities for reasons other than financial performance. Investing in new issues involves special risks including lack of trading history, limited information and availability, and volatility. Cash positions may underperform relative to equity and fixed-income securities. A significant portion of assets may be invested in securities of companies in related sectors, and may be similarly affected by economic, political, or market events and conditions and may be more vulnerable to unfavorable sector developments. Investing in companies of medium capitalizations involves the risk that such issuers may have limited product lines or financial resources, lack management depth, or have limited liquidity. Active trading may increase transaction costs, brokerage commissions, and taxes, which can lower the return on investment.

Past performance is not indicative of future performance. Investors whose reference currency differs from that in which the underlying assets are invested may be subject to exchange rate movements that alter the value of their investments.
